

Industry mix

A shopping world with its own laws.

A world of experience in which consumers are open for fascinating ideas and want to be surprised without having to search. Airport retailing is a world unto itself, in which the conventional laws of shopping don't apply. When leasing out retail space in our marketplaces, we therefore ensure a site-specific mix to address different target groups. Our successful recipe includes travel items such as books and press, duty free and trendy products, as well as international brands, restaurants, bars and cafes, and various services. This optimum combination of offerings enables above-average returns. It's a world of incomparable opportunities.